SEN. CAMPBELL IS ADVOCATE OF SCHOOL REFORMS

Will Favor Change in Manner of Securing Text Books so as to Remove Bane of Practical Monopoly in Kentucky and Inferior Books.

OTHER IMPORTANT MATTERS

State Senator J. Wheeler Campbell has one hobby—the public schools, and he confessed that if he has one legitimate program, for which he will stand sponsor, if he can secure the co-operation of his co-laborers in the legislature, it is a general scheme of reform in the public school system of Kentucky.

"There are a number of important questions this general assembly should settle," said Senator Campbell, "and I hope that there will be less bickering and partisan politics than I anticipate, and that all parties will co-operate in passing wise and beneficial laws.

"I am going to Frankfort with one hobby—if you wish to call it that—the state school system, and if all the talk I have heard on the subject crystallizes into some sort of action, I shall propose a drastic amendment to our state school book law.

"I was pleased at the state development convention to hear so much discussion of the schools. It indicates that the people are awakening to the distressing condition existing, but I did not hear one person propose a practical remedy.

"I know what is wrong with the schools, and if I secure co-operation, I shall set about to correct the evil. We are tied up by a school law that puts the state at the mercy of one book concern, and Kentucky is using antiquated text books, that have been discarded by other states for years. Our present law requires a book concern, that intends to bid for the contract to supply books, to furnish the county judge, the county attorney and the county school superintendent, the officials empowered to select the books in each county, with a set of the books offered for use, also to furnish a set to certain state officers. You readily see that the concern must furnish three sets of books for every county in the state, and then multiply that by two. Then, of course, each concern must have a representative to lay its proposition before each board. The result is that only one company bids on the book contract. That company holds the state, as far as text books are concerned, in the hollow of its hand. No other book concern is coming in to the state to spend $50,000 or $60,000 to get the merits of its text books before these various officials and then be turned down, as they well know they will be, for there is more politics in the school book business than, perhaps, the average person realizes.

"It is this pernicious system that is at the bottom of Kentucky's backwardness in school matters. The state expends a liberal per capita on her school system, but it is squandered, when antiquated text books are prescribed.

I think, too, the per capita of the state should be supplemented by local taxation. People should not be educated to depend entirely on state support of local schools.

"Wealthy counties, of course, pay a relatively larger proportion of this school fund than the poor counties. But if a poor county has a larger juvenile population than the wealthier county, the poor county receives more of the per capita distribution. That distributes the benefits of education somewhat; but when a community is able and willing to support better and longer schools, they should be encouraged to do so.

"I intend to advise with Governor elect Willson and ascertain what support we may expect from him in the matter of school reforms.

"Insurance laws, taxation and several other matters of equal importance to the whole state will interest the legislature after the organization and the senatorial election are out of the way."

ITALIAN REGIE WILL BEGIN PAYING CASH FOR TOBACCO MONDAY--AMERICAN SNUFF CO.

Money Will Be Kept in Safety Deposit Boxes in Local and Mayfield Banks.

McCracken county will be enriched to the extent of about $100,000 by $150,000 cash within the next four weeks. The Italian Regie will commence paying cash for tobacco Monday, and the American Snuff company will probably begin that practice the same day or a little later. They began paying cash in Mayfield last Monday, because contracts there were dated a week earlier than here, but little tobacco was delivered this week.

Banks here and at Mayfield, however, will not handle this cash through the window, it is said, and the buyers will use safety deposit vaults. The banks refused to pay out the cash in their regular business because, as one of the bankers expressed it, "they haven't the time to explain to every tobacco grower in this county all about it."

Independent buyers are using cashier's checks, just as every other line of business here is doing, and the bankers felt that if they paid out cash for trust purposes and checks for the others, the apparent discrimination would cause suspicion of dealing in favor of the trust and require repeated explanations to the growers.

There is a suspicion among association growers, anyway, that buyers are using cash to tempt the members of the association to act independently, and some of them are likely to construe the most innocent action amiss. So the tobacco buyers will have to act as did the early traders, before there were any banks, except that the banks' strong boxes will take the place of hiding the coin.

The Italian Regie is the biggest buyer in this district, and last year

PADUCAH FAVORS APPALACHIAN MT. FOREST RESERVE

The Paducah Forestry association last night adopted resolutions calling on the Kentucky delegation to congress to vote in favor of the Appalachian forest reserve, following a speech on "Forestry" by Dr. T. E. Will, secretary of the American Forestry association, at the Woman's club. The lecture was illustrated with beautiful colored slides, and the speech was effective.

Mr. John S. Bleeker, president of the Paducah association, presided.

Dr. Will was introduced by Mr. Saunders Fowler in an excellent address, that fully acquainted the audience with the nature of the discussion they were to hear.

At the close of the lecture resolutions endorsing the work of the American Forestry association was presented by Mr. Saunders A. Fowler. Mr. H. C. Rhodes, president of the Paducah Commercial club, and Mr. M. B. Nash seconded, and it was adopted by a unanimous rising vote of the audience.

Dr. Will will spend Sunday at Goldsboro, where he formerly was superintendent of the schools, and will then proceed to Columbus, O., where he will deliver a lecture on forestry. He was entertained here by Dr. and Mrs. Frank Boyd.

FIREBUG AT WORK AGAIN IN MURRAY SO IT IS BELIEVED

Z. C. Graham's Warehouse Set on Fire Last Night and Bottling Works and Two Residences Were Destroyed mysteriously This Week.

RECALLS COURT HOUSE FIRE

Murray, Ky., Nov. 30.—(Special.)—Incendiary blaze discovered at Z. C. Graham & company's warehouse last night indicates that Murray's firebug, who got in such disastrous work 18 months ago, is active again. A series of mysterious fires occurring the past week.

Sunday the plant of the Murray bottling works and two nearby residences were burned, while last night the large tobacco storage warehouse belonging to Z. C. Graham & company, of Paducah, was discovered to be on fire, but the blaze was extinguished after valiant work by Murray's "bucket brigade." The warehouse contained little, all of the last year's crop having been sold and delivered. No new tobacco has been received for storage. The warehouse stands near the station and but a short distance from where the bottling works plant burned.

It is believed that "night riders" had nothing to do with the attempted burning of the warehouse, as it is an association concern, and the association practically controls the tobacco crop in Calloway. There has never been any depredations committed in the county.

IDA BACON SAID GET ANOTHER WIFE AND WAS KILLED

From evidence brought out at the coroner's inquest held this morning, a case of murder was made out against Monroe Bacon, who shot his wife, Ida Bacon, in the woods near Mechanicsburg yesterday afternoon.

Two negro women, who were with the Bacon woman when the killing occurred, testified that Bacon came to where they were picking persimmons and called her to the fence and began talking to her. They quarreled and the woman told Bacon to get him another woman and she would get another man, she started back laughing when Bacon fired four shots, two taking effect.

Bacon made practically the same statement to the officers when arrested.

The jury empaneled by Acting Coroner Fred Roth, returned the following verdict:

We, the jury, empaneled and sworn to inquire into the cause of the death of Ida Bacon, whose body now lies before us, find from the evidence that she came to her death in McCracken county, on November 29, 1907, as the result of wounds inflicted by a pistol in the hands of her husband, Monroe Bacon. Signed: B. Michael W. A. Doolin, W. H. Patterson, S. P. Martin, W. H. Pirtle, L. M. Brooks.

When the case was called in police court this morning Bacon waived examining trial and was held to the grand jury without bail.

TWO TRAINS OF LOGS

Two long train loads of logs for the Paducah Box and Basket company on Caldwell street near the Union station, were received this morning. These added to the already well filled yard of the company will give the concern enough raw material to run the factory for many months.

The logs came from southern points and are gum and elm, many of the logs being monsters in size.

Corporal Punney, who has been assisting in recruiting men in this city, has been transferred to the coast artillery.

Taft's Train in DANGER AT HANDS OF TERRORISTS

Peters, European Russia, Nov. 30.—Police of Ufa were alarmed last night by a report that an attempt would be made to blow up the train bearing Secretary of War William Taft, to St. Petersburg, while in that city and 50 soldiers were stationed on the vestibules of the train, which proceeded with great caution through out the night.

A nobleman will be detailed as Taft's special aide.

ARLUND'S CHILD BURNED

Peter Arlund received a telegram at the county jail yesterday afternoon containing the information that his child had been seriously burned by the explosion of a gasoline stove, at his home in Louisville, and in order to allow the prisoner to go to his child's bedside Judge Cross released him on his own recognizance, Arlund waiving examining trial on the charge of obtaining money by false pretenses. The charge will be referred to the grand jury, which meets next week, and there is some doubt as to whether a case will be made out against him.

I. C. HOSPITAL REPORT

The November report for the Illinois Central railroad hospital shows the lightest November record in the history of the institution. At the beginning of the month there were 27 patients on the rolls. Twenty-nine have been admitted during the month, while at the close there are only 18 on the list. Only one death occurred at the hospital during the month, that of Ben Griffith, the Illinois Central flagman, who succumbed last Sunday to injuries received by falling from an engine at Little Cypress.

Murrel Winfrey's Clothing Ablaze When Garland McGarvey Risks His Own Life for Sake of Companion.

Were Playing With Toy Cannon in Woods When Spark Alighted on Powder Causing Accident.

Murrel Winfrey, little son of B. B. Winfrey, an Illinois Central shop employee, of 1201 Jefferson street, was severely burned yesterday afternoon about the face and hands and body by the explosion of a sack of powder in his coat pocket and would probably have been burned to death but for the heroic work of his companion, Garland McGarvey, son of C. F. McGarvey, of 1431 Kentucky avenue, who pulled off the blazing clothing from the Winfrey boy, receiving serious burns himself about the face and hands.

The accident happened in the woods beyond the railroad shops, where the boys had gone to shoot a toy cannon. The powder in the Winfrey boy's pocket became ignited from a spark flying when one of them struck a match, the blaze flashing up and almost enveloping the lad.

Without a moment's hesitation the McGarvey boy set to work to remove his companion's coat and other clothing and was successful in getting them off in time to save his life.

The boys hurried to the McGarvey home and Dr. Earle, of the Illinois Central hospital, was summoned and dressed the injuries of the lads.

FORAKER IN FIGHT

Washington, Nov. 30.—Senator Foraker made it clearly known today that he will contest the Ohio delegation to the Republican national convention with Taft. This decision is contained in a letter to Conran J. Mattern, vice-president of the Ohio Republican league, who forwarded Foraker a copy of the resolutions adopted by the advisory and executive committee of the league endorsing Foraker for the presidential nomination, which was made public today. He defends his course in relation to the passage of the railroad rate bill and insists the necessity of the railroads to spend millions annually in increasing their facilities makes this a bad time to hamper the roads in any unnecessary way by legislation.

STATE INTRODUCES ITS EVIDENCE IN POWERS CASE.

Georgetown, Ky., Nov. 30.—In the Powers case this morning Frank Thomason, the Capitol Square policeman, who saw Goebel shot, testified that he saw mountaineers in the yard, but did not see arms. He heard Charles Finley talking to them. Judge M. Field, Republican, of Whitesburg, came down on the train with Wharton Golden and a number of mountaineers. Golden introduced one as the man, who would "kill them all." He asked Field if any man in Letcher county would kill Goebel. Field told of meetings held by mountaineers and of many suggestions made by members of the party as to how to kill Goebel. At one meeting either Powers or Golden, acting as chairman, said, "The man who does not know why he is here had better get out."

Chicago, Nov. 30.—The government laid the grounds for a suit in an effort to dispossess Banker Walsh of his present fortune of $20,000,000 said to have been realized on investments with depositors' funds. McKay, private bookkeeper for Walsh, admitted that transactions aggregating millions were erroneously entered in books under the heading of "loans and discounts." Instead of "liabilities" against directors, which officers were not liable for losses on loans. False returns are said to have been made to the comptroller of the currency by means of these entries. Universities Responsible.

New York, Nov. 30.—That the growth of agnosticism in America is directly traceable to the universities of the country was the statement made yesterday by the Rev. Father Henry A. Brann, rector of St. Agnes church, at the dedication ceremonies of the new church of St. Monica. He especially mentioned Columbia and Harvard Universities. He said that agnosticism was taught by the professors in many universities, but the cause of religion was advancing in spite of this, and would continue to do so.

MADE FROM S.S.S. ROOTS AND HERBS A SAFE AND RELIABLE BLOOD PURIFIER

In the time of our forefathers the forests and fields were the only laboratories from which they could procure their medicines. They searched out and compounded the different roots, herbs and barks into remedies, many of which have been handed down to succeeding generations, and continuously used with satisfactory results. Among the very best of these old time preparations is S. S. S., a medicine made entirely from roots, herbs and barks, in such combination as to make it the greatest of all blood purifiers. This absolute vegetable purity of S. S. S. makes it the one medicine that may be used without fear of harmful results in any way. Most blood medicines on the market contain mercury, potash, or some other strong mineral. These act with bad effect on the system, upsetting the stomach, interfering with the digestion, affecting the bowels, and when used for a prolonged period of time often cause salivation. No such effects ever result from the use of S. S. S., and it may be taken by children as safely as by older people. For Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Malaria, Scrofula, Skin Diseases, and all other troubles caused by impure or poisoned blood, S. S. S. is a perfect remedy. It goes down into the circulation and removes all poisons, impurities, humors or unhealthy matter, and makes the blood pure and rich. It eliminates every particle of the taint of inherited blood trouble, purifies and strengthens the weak, deteriorated blood, and establishes the foundation for good health. S. S. S. is Nature's Blood Purifier, and its many years of successful service, with a steadily increasing demand for it, is the best evidence of its value in all blood troubles. Book on the blood and any medical advice free of charge. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

THEATRICAL NOTES

"Parsifal."

One of the most notable events in the history of the stage in this country was the grand and magnificent spectacle of Wagner's world-renowned mystic drama of "Parsifal," witnessed at the Metropolitan theater, New York City.

Scholars and students, musicians and artists, and all lovers of the refined and beautiful flocked in thousands from all parts of the new world to witness this wonderful work.

The press and clergy vied with each other in extolling its many beauties. The intelligent public at large, praised and lauded it without exception. "Parsifal" was then and always will remain so in the minds of the thousands that witnessed it, by far the most magnificent and beautiful spectacle ever placed upon the stage or presented to the public. It was not limited in name to "opera." Even talented musicians referred to it as a "music drama" or "grand spectacle." It was beyond the ordinary opera in its influence, impression and effect.

sion, action and speech, because of itself it possessed such supreme dramatic qualities, such a gorgeous environment and so human and soulful a story in its plot and theme that from first to last the observer was thrilled with its gradual development and its overwhelming climax. Nothing like it, from a dramatic standpoint, was ever seen. It is hard to conceive that anything approaching it in dramatic intensity will ever be witnessed again.

These statements can best be understood by the many of our readers who are more or less familiar with the mythical stories of the "Holy Grail," made famous throughout the world by the most renowned of our poets and scholars. It is a theme that has stirred the hearts and souls of men for ages. It will continue to do so for ages to come.

Messrs. Martin and Emery's company today present this famous festi-

"My Wife's Family."

Concerning "My Wife's Family," at The Kentucky Monday, the Minneapolis Tribune said:

"My Wife's Family," as presented at the Bijou opera house this week, is a pretentious production of the light order of farces with incidental music and specialty acts brought in at opportune moments to enliven the play. There are laughable entanglements and the lines are clever."

Al G. Field Coming.

Al G. Field minstrels will be presented at the Kentucky theater December 4.

Besides having a sumptuous dress of scenery and costumes, the Field production is notable this year in that it is entirely new. Doc Quigley has a new repertoire of pedal antics, his new hornpipe, which he does in "The Five Musical Marines," being one of the terpsichorean pictures. Doc appears also with Mr. Field in his burlesque on the visit of Secretary of War Taft to the Philippine Islands, and leads his company of expert dancers through manifold interpretations of negro footology. Billy Clarke will be heard in his capacity of end man and monologist. Bun Granville sings "If I'm Going to Die I Am Going to Have Some Fun," and leads a bevy of black-face impersonations in a burlesque on the Gibson Girl with the song made famous in the Mayfair opera. Harry Van Fossen has a number of good songs, notably "Ya-Hoo, I'm Running Wild," in which he does his famous shuffle dance, also a song called "The Laundry Man," and "The Hot Lunch Man." The balladists are strong in number and include many old-time favorites: John S. Dickens sings Nevin's famous song, "My Rosary," and "The Door of Hope;" George T. Martin sings the new song, "I Would Live or I Would Die for You;" Walter Sherwood sings "Sweet Kathleen" and Earl Flynn is heard in the song called "The Little Boy in Green." The double sextet and the chorus render at every performance a program of new popular songs and airs. The minstrel second part, or olio, is interspersed with spectacles, the most notable being "The Little Boy in Green" and "The Night Before Christmas." The first spectacle shows a race track scene with its grand stand thronged and betting ring sur-ing with a crowd of excited bookies and betters. There is the throng of strolling banjoists and singers, Harry Van Fossen in his impersonations of a bookie singing the new Field song, "I'd Rather Be a Bookie Than a Banker." In the racing scene Mr. Field's two famous horses, Belle and Sultan, have a part which lends a certain realism to this unique production.

Hugged Like Her Husband and This Virginia Woman Didn't Mind the Bear

Richmond, Va., Nov. 30.—Mrs. Adelle Lother, who lives with her husband, John Lother, in a snug cabin in the mountainous section some miles west of Winchester, is probably the only woman who, after having been in the embrace of a shaggy bear, routed the monster with a woman's weapon and refused to faint afterward.

In speaking of the occurrence after ward Mrs. Lother said that she never in her life had such a hugging as the bear gave her.

Mrs. Lother was busy in her kitchen when the bear, probably attracted by the smell of cooking, stuck his nose in the door. The woman, whose back was to the door, did not turn, thinking that her husband, who had gone to the mountains after turkeys, was stealing up behind her to give her a kiss.

"Oh, John! Your awful whiskers!" she exclaimed, without looking up, when a shaggy head brushed her cheek.

Then Mrs. Lother felt two strong arms encircle her waist, and she gave a grunt that evidently pleased the hugging, for the clasp was tightened.

"John, you hug like a bear!" she exclaimed, and, twisting in the embrace, she looked squarely into the face of brute.

"You onery brute!" yelled the woman, swinging her dishpan in her surprise and disappointment on the back of brute's head.

CAUSE OF FALLING HAIR.

Dandruff, Which is a Germ Disease—Kill the Germ.

Falling hair is caused by dandruff, which is a germ disease. The germ in burrowing into the root of the hair, where it destroys the vitality of the hair, causing the hair to fall out, dig up the cuticle in little scales, called dandruff or scurf. You can't stop the falling hair without curing the dandruff, and you can't cure the dandruff without killing the dandruff germ. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Newbro's Herpicide is the only hair preparation that kills the dandruff germ. Herpicide is also a delightful hair dressing. Sold by leading druggists. Two sizes 50c and $1.00. THE PRAYER-PERFECT.

Dear Lord, kind Lord,
Gracious Lord, I pray
Thou wilt look on all I love,
Tenderly today!
Weed their hearts of weariness;
Scatter every care
Down a wake of angel-wings
Winnowing the air.

Bring unto the sorrowing
All release from pain;
Let the life of laughter
Overflow again.
And with all the needy
O, divide, I pray,
This vast treasure of content
That is mine today!

Dr. Enelow to Lecture Thursday Afternoon.

An event of more than usual interest in Paducah club circles is the lecture of Dr. H. G. Enelow of Louisville at the Woman's club house on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Dr. Enelow comes under the auspices of the educational department of the Woman's club and will speak on "Education and Democracy." He is a brilliant and forceful speaker and the club auditorium would be crowded, no doubt, with interested club women and educators, if Dr. Enelow's reputation as an orator and thinker were all. But he comes among friends that he made during his several years' residence here as the rabbi of Temple Israel, all of whom have followed his notably brilliant career since leaving Paducah, with the deepest interest. It has been all upward progress. He is now the rabbi of Adath Israel in Louisville, a magnificent new temple and an extensive congregation. Always a cultured and yinle thinker and delightful speaker, Dr. Enelow has won new laurels by his addresses in Louisville and elsewhere, and has traveled in Europe with "seeing eyes," since leaving here. His lecture, "Education and Democracy" is one that has attracted much notice. He is deeply interested in educational themes and the work in Kentucky, and Paducah and her people have always had an especial place in his interest. The hour is placed at 4 o'clock that the teachers of the city schools may hear him.

It is the open meeting of the educational department and it is free to all club members, who must present their membership tickets at the door, however. The nominal admission fee of 25 cents is charged for the general public.

HOW SHE MADE THE MATCH.

(Original.)

Fraulein Gretchen Linderstein belonged to the pauper nobility of Germany. She came to America, where she supported herself by making portraits of children, at which she was very skillful.

Albert Adams was a widower about thirty-five years of age, with two little children, a boy and a girl. His maid on aunt, Virginia Adams, managed his household and took care of the children. One day Mr. Adams stumbled into the nursery and saw the pretty German girl sketching his children. Seeking his aunt, he asked all about the girl and on being told that she was a German objected. He was prejudiced against the German race. Miss Virginia threatened if he interfered to resign the care of his children, so the fraulein was allowed to finish her work. Then one day Mr. Adams was informed that she was to depart the next morning.

"I think you had better keep her if you can," he said. "The children have grown attached to her. Try to get her for their governess."

This was exactly what Miss Virginia wanted, and she induced the artist to remain and assist her with the children.

One evening Mr. Adams, whose residence was in the country, came home to find a young man wearing clothes of a German cut and smoking a china pipe walking in the grounds beside the governess. Mr. Adams hurried to his aunt.

"What's that Dutchman doing here?" he asked angrily.

"You mean Count Ludwig Slaght! He's not a Dutchman. He's a German. He's a family connection of Fraulein Gretchen Linderstein's."

"He's scenting up the grounds with his beastly pipe. What has he come for?"

"It looks very like he has come for the fraulein."

"I thought you said he was a relative."

"Not a near relative."

With something like a growl Mr. Adams departed and was not again visible till the next morning at breakfast. Several days later he asked his aunt what had become of "the Dutchman."

"He's at the inn. He comes to see the fraulein every day at her recreation hour, and she walks out with him. 'Do you really think she's going to marry the fellow?'"

"The fellow! She tells me he's a member of the German parliament."

"German parliament! They have no real parliament in Germany. They're a set of toadies to the emperor."

"Well, he wants to take the fraulein back with him."

"How do you know that?"

"I don't know it. I suspect it."

"What a rascally proceeding!"

"What do you mean?"

"Why, the children have got used to her and love and obey her as they will no one else. Besides, it's a pity that such a refined girl should be tied for life to a brutal German husband."

"But she's German herself."

"I don't care if she is. We all know what tyrants the Germans are with their wives."

"Albert, never interfere in a love affair. The couple will turn and rend you."

"Love affair! I can't conceive of a dainty little thing like the fraulein loving a rascally Dutchman."

Mr. Adams spoke the last words with sovereign contempt and, turning on his heel, left his aunt and mounted a horse to ride off his indignation. On his return he found the count walking in his grounds with the fraulein. The sight was too much for him. When he reached the pair he dismounted and said to the count:

"Perhaps you are not aware, sir, that in America it is not considered honorable to tamper with employees."

"Vat you say? I not honorable? Perhaps you do not know how we reply to such language in Germany. I will 'pig stick' you."

"Ludwig," said the girl softly, "remember that you are in America."

"Yes, Gretchen, but a gentleman cannot brook an insult wherever he be."

"It is my wish that you go away from here and leave me to explain your presence to Mr. Adams."

"Since you desire it. But you must procure me an apology."

Raising his hat in a dignified manner, he turned and walked stiffly out of the grounds. Then the fraulein said:

"Why do you object to my brother-in-law's presence here?"

"Your brother-in-law?"

"Yes. He comes with a message from the family urging me to go back to Germany. They guarantee me $1,000 a year to live on."

"Fraulein, I am an ass. But you must not leave us. My aunt has come to rely upon you, the children adore you, and I—"

"You?" she asked, looking up archly.

"Love you."

An hour later a servant bore an apology to Count Ludwig and an invitation to dinner. At the dinner he was informed that his sister-in-law would not return at present to Germany, but would visit her relatives in a few months as Mrs. Adams. The count himself was induced to take up his residence during the remainder of his stay at the Adams home and when he returned gave glowing accounts of the new American member of the Linderstein family.

"Who made the match between your nephew," Miss Adams was once asked, "and the pretty fraulein?"

"I did," was the laconic reply.

of the president and all that, and wanted a set of teeth just like Roosevelt's. Yes, we have all sorts of cranks coming along here. STARTLING PREDICTIONS

YOUR WHOLE LIFE REVEALED

Remarkable Psychic Astrologer Tells Past and Future With Amazing Accuracy to All Who Write Absolutely Free.

Men and Women from All Parts of the World Seek His Advice About Love Affairs, Business, Health, Journeys, Marriage, Legacies, Changes, Speculation, Etc.

From the great city of New York, where scientists and investigators are eagerly watching the progress of inventions and spending millions of dollars in the perfection of methods by which the masses may be benefited, comes the startling announcement that Professor Albert Postel, the great Astrologer, has perfected a system by which he can foretell the principal events of a life, forewarn people of danger, point out the road to success and explain the cause of failure in so many lives.

The Professor says that he can explain who your enemies are, tell you those persons in whom you can place confidence and from whom you may expect favors, name your lucky days, tell you what pitfalls to avoid, what opportunities to grasp, advise you about your business and how to improve your condition physically, financially and socially. His method is unlike that of any other astrologer, and from the expressions of gratitude contained in the many thankful letters from his patrons, it is evident that much good is being accomplished by his work. The following are samples of the letters received by Professor Postel, and go far toward showing that his Life Horoscopes are not only accurate, but are prepared with a view to guiding and benefiting those who apply to him for counsel.

Eddie M. Tryon writes: "You are certainly the most wonderful astrologer living. Every one of your predictions came true."

Mr. Broad, real estate agent of Brandon, Can., in a recent letter to Mr. Postel, says: "My horoscope is the best instrument of guidance that I have ever had put in my hands. I would not take a hundred dollars for the information you have given me."

Another letter, from Miss Bessie Horn, reads as follows: "I followed your advice and succeeded in securing a position at a much higher salary than I anticipated. I consider the horoscope worth hundreds of dollars to me."

Charts and dials of strange design surround the professor in his daily work of answering the correspondents and sending out readings to people in all parts of the world. From a glance at the features of Professor Postel, it is clear to be seen that he is a man who has a kindly feeling toward humanity, and his manner and conversation tend to prove that he is sincere in his desire to be of real benefit to his clients.

Readers of this paper can obtain a reading free of charge by addressing a letter to Professor Albert Postel, Department 763, No. 162 West 34th street, New York, N. Y. Simply say you wish a reading of your life, and be sure to state your birth date, sex and whether married or single. Please inclose 10 cents (silver or stamps) to pay postage and clerical work, and the reading, also a copy of Prof. Postel's interesting book, "Your Destiny Foretold," will be promptly sent. Tell your friends to send for a reading also.

Personally appeared before me, this

Daily Thought.

The true strength of every human soul is to be dependent on as many nobler as it can discern, and to be dependent upon by as many inferior as it can reach.—Ruskin.

Those weak young men, who, on the witness stand, tell of committing forgeries at the behest of Walsh in Chicago, and confess to false entries and false balances made to cover his defalcations, are possibly more to be pitied than blamed, and yet, with our pity is mingled contempt for such characters. There is no smack of loyalty about such dishonesty. They receive neither the token of admiration due the successful knave, nor the hero's crown. They are ruined, and for another's gain.

TOO MUCH CONCERN.

The Chicago Tribune, which has adopted as one of its pet hobbies the promotion of southern immigration, no matter how distasteful or how bad the quality of immigrants they are, is greatly harried over peonage in Mississippi, the conduct of whose people the Tribune greatly fears will interfere with the growth of the south's foreign population.

The genuine truth is, we suspect, that the class of foreigners, who gave rise to the accusation of peonage, are not very desirable citizens. Just why the Chicago Tribune should be so anxious to people the south with an inferior kind of laborers from Italy and southern Europe, it is difficult to understand. The Tribune has never got through abusing Attorney General Bonaparte, because he stopped the Carolina cotton mill men going to Europe and contracting for operatives in the industrial centers of that overcrowded continent, and it is just as harsh against Mississippi.

Peonage is wrong, and no doubt there are men in Mississippi, who are not compose the peon class of Mississippi, nor the slaves of Chicago.

Perhaps, after all, Mississippi knows what she wants, better than does the Chicago Tribune.

The Newell memorial service tomorrow will be a fitting tribute to the memory of a deserving worker.

Richard Pearson Hobson will now have opportunity to learn how much greater is the hand that rocks the cradle than great navies.

Abe Hummel, the shyster lawyer,

York. We trust it will be brief illness.

THE DEMOCRATIC GAME IN ILLINOIS.

Democratic members of the Illinois legislature have been pretending that all the opposition to a state primary law has been on the Republican side. They were forced into the open in Tuesday's vote and their duplicity exposed. In the senate the conference report on the pending state primary bill was adopted by a vote of 42 to 4. In the house the emergency clause required an affirmative vote of 102, but the house rejected the report by 84 ayes and 33 noes.

The house Democrats caucused and drew up a minority protest against the bill, signed by two of the Democratic conferees. Fourteen Democrats in the house voted against the bill and ten were absent. The bill as it came from the conferees did not sue twenty-four Democrats in the house, the minority in which has been insisting that the Republicans are the obstructionists.

The Democrats in the Illinois legislature have been playing partisan politics with the primary bill question. They are united on nothing unless it can be used to help the Democratic party in a state where its standing is deservedly at a low ebb.

They want a Democratic primary law,

one that will throw the Republicans into confusion and defeat majority action. They prefer no action at all, for then they can go to the voters of the state with the plea that the Republicans fail to give the people what they have distinctly shown they want, and which the general sentiment of the state says they ought to have. A primary law will be passed before the session ends, in spite of the Democratic conspiracy to defeat everything reasonable that can be brought to a vote.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

FRIENDS.

He calls himself your friend

Who comes to you

With visage blue,

And begs that you will lend

Him just a few

Dollars, because his rent will soon be due.

He also is your friend

Who, when he meets you,

Thrusts greets you,

"Why, how your shoulders bend,

And, really, Bill,

I never saw you looking quite so ill."

And it's your dearest friend

Who tells you that

You're getting fat,

And cures will recommend

To make you thinner;

And says: "You're almost bald, you gay old sinner!"

We all have cheerful friends

Who love to call

And tell us all

Our faults. When fortune sends Us friends like these

Tis not so hard to love our enemies.

"That's a bum horse you sold me last week," blurted the angry customer. "In what way sir?" queried the crafty dealer, rubbing his hands.

"Why, you told me he would go like the wind. We watched him all day and couldn't see him move at all."

"Well, neither could you see the wind."—Chicago News.

CHAPTER XVIII.

The Battle in the Maze.

For an instant I was overwhelmed with terror and self-reproach. The bolted door before me gave notice of danger as plainly as though the word had been painted upon its front. The dark and lowering walls of the passage in which the Wolf figure of Dodd-ridge Knapp had appeared and disappeared whispered threats. And I, in my folly and carelessness, had brought Luella Knapp into this place and exposed her to the dangers that encircled me. It was this thought for the moment unnerved me.

"What does this mean?" asked Luella in a matter-of-fact tone.

"It is a poor practical joke, I fear," said I lightly. I took occasion to shift a revolver to my overcoat pocket.

"Well, ain't you going to get me out of here?" she asked with a little suggestion of impatience.

"That is my present intention," I replied, beating a tattoo on the door.

"You'll hurt your fists," she said.

"You must find some way besides beating it down."

"I'm trying to bring our friends here," said I. "They should have been with us before now."

"Isn't there another way out?" asked

Luella.

"I suspect there are a good many ways out," I replied, "but, unfortunately, I don't know them." And I gave a few resounding kicks on the door.

"Where does this stairway go, I wonder?" said Luella. "It can't be the way out. Isn't there another?"

"We might try the passage,"

she gave a shudder and shrank toward me.

"No, no," she cried in a low voice.

"Try the door again. Somebody must hear you, and it may be opened."

I followed her suggestion with a rain of kicks, emphasized with a shout that made the echoes ring gloomily in the passage.

I heard in reply a sound of voices, and then an answering shout, and the steps of men running.

"Are you there, Mr. Wilton?" cried the voice of Corson through the door.

"Yes, all safe, I answered.

"Well, just hold on a bit and we'll—"

The rest of his sentence was lost in a suppressed scream from Luella.

I turned and darted before her, just in time to face three Chinese ruffians who were hastening down the passage.

The nearest of the trio, a tall dark savage with a deep scar across his cheek, was just reaching out his hand to seize Luella when I sprang forward and planted a blow square upon his chin. He fell back heavily, lifted almost off his feet by my impact, and lay like a log on the floor.

The other two ruffians halted irreso-lute for an instant, and I drew my revolver. Their wish seemed to be to take me alive if possible. After a moment of hesitation there was a muttered exclamation and one of the deesperados drew his hand from his blouse.

"Oh!" cried Luella. "He's got a knife!"

Before he could make another movement I fired once, twice, three times. There was a scramble and scuffle in the passageway, and the smoke rolled thick in front, blotting out the scene that had stood in silhouette before us.

Fearful of a rush from the Chinese,

I threw one arm about Luella, and, keeping my body between her and possible attack, guided her to the stair that led upward at nearly right angles from the passage. She was trembling and her breath came short, but her spirit had not quailed. She shook herself free as I placed her on the first step.

Father and Son Shot to Death.
Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 30.—Frank McCoy, 40 years old, was shot and killed and his father, Joel McCoy, fatally wounded today when Edward Ford opened fire on them with a revolver. The shooting was the outcome of charges by Ford that the McCoy's had poisoned several of his horses. Ford claims he shot in self-defense.

FILES A DIVORCE SUIT DAY HIS SON IS BORN.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 30.—Mrs. Mattie Douglas Weigand, of Des Moines, was sued for divorce by her husband, Leonard Weigand, a wealthy Nebraska farmer, 85 years old, on the day she presented him a son and heir.

In his petition for divorce Mr. Weigand does not deny that he is the father of his wife's baby, but he makes the charge that he wed her under a threat made by her that if he did not she would murder him.

They were married a year ago in California, where the old man was spending the winter for the benefit of his health. Miss Mattie Douglas, a trained nurse, was engaged to take care of him in a serious illness, and she nursed him back to health. As soon as he was able to be up and about Mr. Weigand and Miss Douglas were married.

Mrs. Weigand denies stoutly that the old man married her under a threat of murder. She says that he asked her to become his wife of his own free will, that she consented to marry him, and that there was nothing irregular in their marriage.

"I nursed Mr. Weigand through an illness that came near proving fatal," she said, "I read to him when he was convalescing, and did everything I could to make him comfortable and content. When he had recovered from his illness he asked me to marry him, telling me that he was old and needed some one to take care of him."

The aged groom and his bride, who is about 45 years his junior, remained in California for some time after their marriage, and three or four months ago Mrs. Weigand returned to her old home at Des Moines, where her child was born. Her husband went to his home in Nebraska and there engaged an attorney and directed him to prepare a petition for divorce. The petition was drawn up and the old man had it filed the day his son and heir was born.

Mrs. Weigand professes to be highly indignant at her husband for bringing a suit for divorce, and she will bring a counter-suit, denying the charges he prefers against her in his petition and asking for separate maintenance and liberal alimony.

SHOULD GO TO SLEEP

And Then Wake Up With Both Eyes Open, Says J. J. Hill.

New York, Nov. 30.—"What this country needs above everything else is the rest cure," said James J. Hill recently, in discussing the financial situation. "We all want to go to sleep for a good long time and awake up with both eyes open. The country has been suffering from mistrust; while there is an easing in the mercantile credit situation, the people who have money are holding on to it and giving checks instead."

"Nobody wants to let the money go. The merchants hate such a situation. It has put us on a paper basis such as we were on just after the civil war. We need a rest cure to remedy such conditions."

Decides in Favor of Indians.

Washington, Nov. 30.—The court of appeals, District of Columbia, today decided the case of Ruben Quick Bear and other Sioux Indians against the government, involving the treaty and trust funds of the tribe in favor of the Indians. The court held that both these funds are available for payment to the Catholic bureau of Indian missions for maintenance of Catholic schools at the Rosebud Agency, South Dakota. The commissioner of Indian affairs maintained that the law prohibited the use of funds of this nature for sectarian purposes. The lower court held that the trust fund was applicable but not the treaty fund, but the appellate court today decided that both funds were available.

Claim Letters Forgeries.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 30.—Affirming that the letters introduced by the government in the hearing for extradition were forgeries, attorneys for Villareal, Magon and Rivera, the Mexicans charged with attempting to organize an armed invasion of Mexico, today secured a continuance until Monday, promising to bring witnesses from Arizona to contradict the evidence already introduced.

Famous Man Dead.

Baton Rouge, La., Nov. 30.—Gen. Leon Jastremski, Confederate veteran, journalist, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, and former grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of the United States, who died here today of paralysis, was one of the most prominent makers of Gulf states history. He was 64 years old and a native of France.

The court held that both these funds are available for payment to the Catholic bureau of Indian missions for maintenance of Catholic schools at the Rosebud Agency, South Dakota. Nuptial Knots Poorly Tied.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 30.—Hundreds of marriages are technically invalidated because the Rev. Father Peter C. Philanthropis, formerly of Boston, but now of the Greek church in this city, was not an American citizen at the time he solemnized them.

Father Philanthropis applied for citizenship papers last yesterday and it was then that he learned of his predicament as to the marriages. When the priest was asked about the matter he chiefly was concerned lest his congregation should learn of his ambition to become a citizen.

"They will hang me," he moaned. "They will turn me into the street and they will not let me be priest for them any more."

North Dakota Liquor Victory.

Grand Forks, N. D., Nov. 30.—Judge C. F. Templeton, of the state district court today decided that the North Dakota statute authorizing the seizure of liquor imported into the state to be used as a beverage is unconstitutional. He held that the law violated the commerce clause of the United States constitution.

Mr. C. C. Grassham went to Smithland yesterday on legal business.

BRIDAL PARTY ESCAPES DEATH

Carriage Containing Bride and Groom Hangs From Viaduct.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 30.—Hanging for fifteen minutes in a closed carriage from a viaduct forty feet high was the experience of a bride, her husband and two witnesses within half an hour after the nuptial knot had been tied.

The two horses attached to the vehicle fell to the railroad tracks below, apparently uninjured. The driver who had been thrown to the ground, also escaped injury and aided in liberating the bridal party from its perilous position.

The imperiled party, besides Harry Stoppleman and Katherine Sturmann, the bride and groom, included the latter's brother and sister-in-law.

The driver attempted to cross a viaduct that was being repaired. The horses plunged headlong through a break, but the carriage was held by the rear wheels.

ONLY MAJORITY

NECESSARY TO ADOPT REPORT, THINKS SHERMAN.

Lieutenant Governor Not Ready to Accept Ruling of Speaker Shurtliff, of the House.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 30.—Lieutenant Governor Sherman stated that he would not appoint any senate conference on the primary election bill until he looked up authorities and satisfied himself that it was necessary to have a two-thirds majority in each case to adopt the conference committee's report as held by Speaker Shurtliff. Sherman differs with Shurtliff and holds that the majority vote in each house is sufficient to adopt the conference committee's report. He thinks it will take ten days to conclude his investigation.

Denies Issues Requisition.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 30.—Governor Denen issued a requisition on Governor Haskell, of Oklahoma, for the return of Martin Brophy, alias John Leonard, who was being held in jail at Ponca on a charge of having murdered Floyd Churchill at Princeton, October 9, 1907.

HOME FOR GOOD PUSSY'S CATS.

Family Felines of High Degree to Have Home in Detroit Where No One Will Say Scat!

Here's a cheery word for furry family felines; for purring pussies of high degree, whom fate has hitherto forced to spend their days and nights in solitude, while their doting owners were enjoying their vacations at the seashore, says the Detroit Free Press.

From the state capital comes the impressive information that the Detroit Cat club and Shelter association, in a moment of anxiety for its feline charges, has been organized to furnish accommodations for family tabbies during the absence from home of their owners, and that articles of association were filed with the secretary of state yesterday.

Thus have the feline faddists triumphed over persons who heartlessly hurl destructive missiles at homeless pussies who seek to while away the dismal night by whimpering their individual complaints to unsympathetic ears. No more will the pampered pets of aristocracy mew mournful musings of a better day, while their mistresses are having the time of their lives.

A humane home and boarding house for cats! Isn't that fine for the felines. And will not the agile Angora swell with pride when the new home for him and his brothers and sisters is a reality. Meals will be served thrice daily, and the midnight serenades will be punctuated now and then with delightful little luncheons.

It will be a great saving for the mistresses, too. While they are away from home, now, they may shut up their houses and it will not be necessary to hire a man to come over and care for the cat. Moreover, the owners will not be perturbed when they know that pussy is in a good, comfortable home, with all modern conveniences, not to mention certified pure food law milk.

Mrs. Harriett L. Mellus, secretary of the Detroit Cat club, says that one member of the organization was forced to squander $100 last summer because she had to keep her pet while she was away. Now, by paying a nominal sum for pussy's board, this item will be done away with. Mrs. Mellus says that in the summer time she sometimes receives as many as six calls a day from persons who are desirous of securing shelter for their cats.

The new home will be maintained by donations, and by the board tariff from owners of the kitties.

TO JURY

BRADLEY CASE WILL BE GIVEN MONDAY EVENING.

Testimony Concluded and Arguments Commenced This Morning—Damaging Evidence.

Washington, Nov. 30.—The presentation of evidence in the Bradley case is concluded and the arguments began this morning. The case will go to the jury Monday evening.

The testimony of two government insanity experts, Dr. Edward H. Brush, of Baltimore, and Dr. Smith Ely Jelliffe of New York, was the feature of today's proceedings, both alienists declaring there was nothing in the report of the case to indicate that Mrs. Bradley was insane. Rev. David H. Utter, pastor of the Unitarian church, of Denver, Colorado, referred to as "the priest," was placed on the stand. He was Mrs. Bradley's pastor in Salt Lake City and testified to a conversation he had with her in 1905, she saying in effect, according to his testimony, that Senator Brown would marry her when a gun was placed before him, but the pastor added that he did not understand that she proposed shooting him. He rather thought some one else would undertake to force him to marry her.

Mrs. Bradley was recalled and stated that she had no recollection of such conversation.

Dr. Barton, on the stand early this week, diagnosed Mrs. Bradley's ailment as being puerperal insanity, caused by what he described as the continued assaults upon her nervous system, due to surgical operations which had been performed upon her, in explaining why he looked upon her as an abnormal woman he said she was interested in things that do not usually attract women, and instanced the fact that she was secretary of a political club as an evidence of her abnormality.

Damaging Evidence.

The defense also called Clayton Holtzclaw, a clerk at the Raleigh hotel; Detective Mullin and Policeman E. L. Phillips to prove that a waste basket full of torn scraps of letters were removed from Mrs. Bradley's room after the shooting. Phillips stated that he had sorted out the pieces and pasted them together. District Attorney Baker offered what is expected to be one of the strongest bits of documentary evidence against Mrs. Bradley, namely a letter written by the defendant just prior to the shooting, and tending to show meditation. This was read to the jury. "About a week ago Sunday and Monday you could not love me—

"I see why and how Y—so inconsistent.

"The letters are from Annie Adams, Maud Adams' mother. Please take them and use them if you think them—"

"Will you kindly keep these? I have written you. I may need them, and in case there is need for defense of any rashness publish them. Mrs. Lufkin, No. 35 South Second street, or Mrs. Cory would see that they are published."

WILD ANIMALS HEEDLESS; MILD WINTER PREDICTED.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 30.—Thos. Martindale, merchant and sportsman, who returned from the Maine woods a few days ago, wrote while at his camp his annual weather observation. For two seasons Mr. Martindale's winter prognostication has been so wonderfully accurate as to make him a genuine weather prophet in the popular regard.

"I found four varieties of woodpeckers, including the 'cock of the woods', or great red headed woodpecker, song sparrows, blue jays, red breasted grosbeaks, chickadees, a horned owl and moose birds.

"Although the coves and dead waters in and around the lake were frozen over there were more ducks feeding in the lake than I had ever seen at any time before.

"A pair of grownup loons, with one little one, were still there, and this morning a large flock of wild geese passed over, going south.

"Not a muskrat house was anywhere to be seen, and the swamps and bogs were comparatively free of water.

"The beavers had not fixed their dam up for the winter, nor were they cutting down any trees for winter use. Two trees were partly cut through and one completely severed, being all the signs of activity to be noted.

"I, therefore, from the result of these observations, venture to predict that the coming winter will be a moderate one."

Closes Recruiting Office.

Capt. A. C. Holtz, of the United States navy, who opened a recruiting office at the custom house a week ago, left last night for Marion, Ill., to open a temporary office there. R. W. Fowler and G. W. Emery, who were accepted for the service Wednesday, were sent to San Francisco to enter the service.

Little Damage From Fire.

Fire, which started from a defective flue, caused the No. 3 company to be called to the residence of Professor Fezzer, on Hampton avenue, yesterday afternoon. Little damage was done by the blaze.

The Splendid New Serial Story

Satan Sanderson

Satan Sanderson is the true embodiment of the requisites that make a really great story. It gives the reader a look into a little world of action where all of the emotions that make or mar life—and lives—are set in swift, exciting play—one against the other. Incident follows incident with quick succession, and a vivid panorama of intrigue, mystery, love and strange adventures kindles the interest to the fusing point.

Written in a charming style, brilliant in coloring, picturesque in background, faithful in characterization and intensely dramatic, with stirring climax, Satan Sanderson is by all odds the best story of the year.

AT JOHN SHARP

BLOW IS AIMED BY DEMOCRATS OF LOWER HOUSE.

Will Adopt Resolution That Speaker Should Make All Committee Appointments.

Washington, Nov. 30.—At a caucus of the Democratic members of the house, scheduled for this afternoon, Representative Jones, of Virginia, will introduce a resolution that all appointments of committees should be made by the speaker.

The purpose is to take out of the hands of John Sharp Williams the naming of the Democratic members of the house committees. Jones says he does not aim at discrediting Williams, but looks upon the plan of authorizing him to select the minority members of the committee as a shrewd move on the speaker's part to disrupt the Democratic side of the house. If he can disrupt it this year, the results are apt to be specially disastrous to the Democratic party. If the Democrats, however, hold solidly together during this session, I believe we have a splendid chance for a Democratic house in the next congress.

Militia and Army Maneuver.

Washington, Nov. 30.—Gratified with the excellent results attending the joint army and militia coast defense exercises this year, the war department proposes to repeat them next season. Accordingly Acting Secretary Oliver has transmitted to the governors of several states a copy of a memorandum on the subject prepared by General Murray, chief of artillery, and suggests that it is of greatest importance that they designate as soon as practicable the companies which are to act as coast artillery reserve and its supports.

FIRST TO WEAR OUT WITH AGE

A Simple Recipe for Bladder Trouble That Should be Valued by Elderly People.

GIVES THIS RECIPE.

The great majority of men and women at the age of 50 years, begin to feel the first signs of advancing age in some form of kidney trouble and bladder weakness. Few are entirely free from that tortuous disease, rheumatism, which is not a disease in itself, but a symptom of deranged function of the kidneys which have become clogged and sluggish, failing in their duty of sifting and straining the poisonous waste matter, uric acid etc., from the blood, permitting it to remain and decompose, settling about the joints and muscles, causing intense pain and suffering.

The bladder, however, causes the old folks the most annoyance, especially at night and early morning.

A noted authority in a recent article stated that he has wonderful success with the old-time "vegetable treatment." He states: "Of sixteen cases of bladder troubles and rheumatism which have been treated with this treatment only one very complicated case failed to fully yield to its remarkable influence. It is the most harmless treatment I have ever found to clean the system of rheumatic poisons; remove irritation of the bladder and relieve urinary difficulties of the old people. It is a true vitalizing tonic to the entire kidney and urinary structure, reinvigorating the entire system."

What he terms "old vegetable treatment" consists of the following: simple prescription, the ingredients which can be obtained from any good pharmacy at small cost: Compound Kargon, one ounce; Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and upon going to bed, also drink plenty of water.

This prescription, though simple, is always effective in the diseases and afflictions of the kidneys and bladder.

SIXTIETH CONGRESS WILL GATHER SOON.

Washington, Nov. 30.—As the day for the opening of the sixtieth congress approaches it becomes more evident that the financial question will receive first consideration at the hands of that body. Members of both houses who have already arrived confess the situation is a difficult one and there has as yet been very little crystallization of thought on the subject. A number of informal conferences have already been held and more must be held before the program can be announced. Senator Aldrich, chairman of the senate committee, will have to deal with the question for the senate is expected in the city tomorrow.

Three Per Cent One-Year Certificates Subscribed to Amount of $25,000,000, it is Stated.

Washington, Nov. 30.—The final closing of allotments of the three per cent one-year certificates was definitely announced by Secretary Cortelyou today. He declared that no allotments had been made or would be made after his announcement of Wednesday night that no further subscriptions would be considered. As the matter stands, practically all allotments are to national banks which have agreed to take out circulation and in a majority of cases have indicated willingness to surrender certificates before maturity upon payment of secured interest on date of redemption.

Information is still withheld at the treasury department as to the amount of allotments made, but such information as is obtainable indicates that the total will not materially exceed $25,000,000.

New York, Nov. 30.—"What this country needs above everything else is the rest cure," said James J. Hill recently, in discussing the financial situation. "We all want to go to sleep for a good long time and awake up with both eyes open. The country has been suffering from mistrust; while there is an easing of the mercantile credit situation, the people who have money are holding on to it and giving checks instead."

"Nobody wants to let the money go. The merchants hate such a situation. It has put us on a paper basis such as we were on just after the civil war. We need a rest cure to remedy such conditions."

RAILROAD NOTES

A new time-table, effective at noon tomorrow, was received by the local officials of the Illinois Central today. The new schedule makes no changes in the time of the arrival and departure of trains at Paducah, slight changes being made in the schedule on the Nashville division between Princeton and Nashville.

The new arrangement makes the accommodation, which leaves here at 3:35 p. m. for Princeton, go through to Hopkinsville without change. This will be of value to travel along that line, as under the old schedule a change of cars had to be made at Princeton by those who desired to go on to Hopkinsville.

John W. Ferguson, a boilermaker's helper at the Illinois Central shops, was struck in the head by a flying bolt yesterday morning and received a bad cut over the eye. The injury is not serious.

As the first of the month is at hand there is some feeling of uneasiness on the part of some of the "newer" employees at the shop, as stories of further reductions in the working forces have been current for several weeks and if any is made it is expected Monday. Judging from the amount of work now in sight, no change will be made of any consequence, if any at all.

A $20,000,000 Estate.
Rock Island, Ill., Nov. 29.—Practically the entire estate, valued at $20,000,000, of the late Charles H. Deere, the implement manufacturer, will go to his grandsons, Charles Deere Wiman and Dwight E. Wiman, of Moline, according to the terms of the will made public today. The fortune is to be paid in three installments. The first of 25 per cent, is to be divided equally between them at the age of 30, another installment of 25 per cent at the age of 40, and the remainder at the age of 50. Meanwhile the income from $100,000 is to be given to W. D. Wiman, their father, during life.

The income from one-third of the remainder of the estate is to be given the testator's widow, Mrs. Charles H. Deere; the income from another third to Mrs. William Butterworth, Moline, the only living child of Mr. and Mrs. Deere, and the income from the remaining third is to be used for the two grandchildren until they come into their shares.

Distant relatives and servants are remembered with small sums. William Butterworth and B. F. Peck, of Moline, are named as trustees of the estate.

Oklahoma's constitution is the biggest in the Union, being made up of 60,000 words.
